I don't make any claims of being a stock expert. But I know how to follow instructions from key and selected stock experts. Plus, I know my way around online and I am good at searching and seeking out critical and strategic information and recognizing that it is just that. A wise principle is this: "Surround yourself with trusted people who know what you don't know." Maybe I will be that in part, for you. Our association is that you have let me speak into your life with mentoring. You may be on my mailing list or you purchased my mentoring products and you are reselling them.

Since the election of our current President #45, the stock market has been exploding. Anyone with the desire to do so can ride the wave. The stock market does have its market drops, but all the gains outweigh those drops and they are still way ahead of many past years. There is much faith in American business by the people who are in the know. Why not you? Why not get in the know and then go out and take a piece of the pie yourself for your retirement and for your children and for more comfortable years in your old age? Does your Social Security and retirement really look good enough to you right now? That's what I thought. There are people making 2000-3000% and even more right now on their money, and I am not saying that they are investing thousands, but hundreds only. In fact, I would rarely tell anyone or even do it myself, to put more than $1000 into a firm. Diversifying is more important.

Here is a sample (but real valid right now) of a great guru that I follow and you can start with his pick for just $200:

But I am ahead of myself. What is good to invest in? What is being looked at as the next iPhone, or the next Microsoft, or the next Netflix, because fortunes were made over those and many more firms, and, $1000 only at the strategic time set up people for life. What firms now are this strategic? Can anyone know? Yes, yes and yes. Can it still be done? You bet. One thing I can help you do is obtain cash for investing from my affiliate program. I pay people $446 payments at PayPal, and I lead them to people who show them strategic stock purchases.

More next time.

God bless,

Greg Nichols
